The Tech

VOL. XXV. No. 69. BOSTON, MASS., FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1906 PRICE THREE CENTS.

SENIOR DINNER.

Last Formal Gathering of 1906 Before Commencement a Success.

The 1906 class dinner held at the Union Wednesday evening was an unqualified success in every way. J. T. Lawton acted as toastmaster and the guests were Professor Dewey and Messrs. Albers, Rand, and Blachstein. Professors Clifford and Miller were unfortunately detained from being present.

Professor Dewey talked about the wave of reform which is sweeping over the country. This movement started in the conflict between science and religion which later invaded the domain of politics, and at the present day the popular demand for purity is beginning to make itself felt. Dishonesty does not come suddenly and it will take persistent and slow work to get industry back to that condition of affairs where honesty is universal.

Mr. Albers urged the engineers to rise in other than professional directions and not to forget that great progress is constantly being made in other directions, especially the legal profession.

Bursar Rand then spoke of courtesy in business and the need of practising the golden rule in the economical world of today, where haste and brusqueness are all-pervading.

Mr. Blachstein in his characteristically humorous way recalled pleasant reminiscences of his association with the "ideal class of the Institute," and urged every man to let determination and constancy of purpose attend his success.

C. G. Loring, C. F. W. Wetterer, Pres. Coe and A. H. Keleher spoke for the class, urging the maintenance of active relations with the Institute after graduation.

As a memorial of the class it was decided to give a clock to the Union and a subscription for that purpose was taken up.

NEW YORK STATE CLUB ORGANIZES.

Twenty-one men from the Empire State gathered at dinner at the Union Tuesday evening and organized the New York State Club of M. I. T. The guest of the evening was to have been Mr. Blachstein but he was unable to be present.

At the business meeting held after the dinner L. A. Freedman, the organizer and temporary chairman, presided. F. J. Friedman, '08, read the proposed Constitution and after some discussion it was adopted. In the election of officers which followed W. I. Griffin, '07, was elected President; Holmquist, '06, Vice-President; L. A. Freedman, '07, Secretary; F. J. Friedman, '08, Treasurer, and the Executive Committee to consist of the President, Vice-President, Wilkinson, '08, and Burhans, '06. The Executive Committee were authorized to arrange for another dinner in May.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL TEAM.

Manager Sharp Promises a Strong Team. Schedule of Games.

On Thursday afternoon the Freshman baseball squad was called out by Manager Sharp. Some twenty men responded to the first call and it is hoped that the squad will be increased considerably. Several of the candidates for the team were prominent in Interscholastic baseball last season and the Freshmen's prospects are very encouraging.

Harold Sharp, the Manager, has been energetically pushing preparations for the season and has announced the following schedule:

April 7, Tech Chambers at Tech Field; April 11, 1907 at Tech Field; April 14, Tufts Dental, '08 at Tech Field; April 19 (morning), Watertown at Watertown; April 21, Melrose at Melrose; April 23, Ballou & Hobigand at Tech Field; April 25, Milton at Milton; April 28, Waltham at Waltham; May 2, Boston College, '09 at Tech Field; May 5, Tufts, '09 at Tufts; May 9, Brookline at Tech Field; May 12, Demeritte at Tech Field; May 14, 16, 19, 1908 at Tech Field.

The men who reported are as follows: pitcher, Wentworth, Whitney, Sherman; catcher, Leeder, Ware; 1st base, Leeder, Allen; 2d base, Kelly, Shea, Applin, Kurtzmann; 3d base, Landis, Wentworth, Perry; short stop, Kelly, Heard, Lawrence, Block; field, Eaton, Nichols, Pope, Stiebel.

THESES TITLES.

The following is the Thesis work being done in the Physical and Chemical Labratories:

Course VIII Theses: J. I. Banash, "The Determination of the Melting Points of Refractory Oxides;" G. C. Furness, "A Study of the Electrolytic Reduction of Aluminium;" G. Hill, "An Investigation of a Fine-copper Sulphite Cell;" H. P. Hollnagel, "The Electromotive Force of Certain Cells Composed of Fused Electrolytes;" R. D. Kendall and C. S. McGinnis, "On the Coefficient of Expansion of Silver Alloys;" E. B. Rowe, "A Study of the Overpressure of Amalgams and Alloys.

Course X Theses: L. N. Bent, "Influence of Water Vapor on Calcium and Barium Chlorides;" A. Fisher, Jr., "The Application of Formic Acid to Dyeing;" H. K. Merrow, "The Protection of Steam-heated Surfaces;" P. B. Sadler, "A New Method for the Technical Preparation of Zinc Chloride;" H. L. Lewenberg, "The Operation Conditions for the Preparation of Barium Chloride from Barytes;" W. J. Walsh, "A Method for Removing the Acid from the Gases Evolved while Charging Storage Batteries;" C. Dill, O. S. Putman, Jr., R. N. Sargent, L. H. Shipman, "Influence of the Constituents of Iron and Steel upon its Speed of Corrosion."

SPRING CONCERT AND DANCE.

Musical Clubs Will Give New Performance Junior Week.

The Annual Spring Concert and Dance will be given by the Musical Clubs the Wednesday evening of Junior Week, April 25. Howe and Potter Halls in the New Century Bldg. have been secured and every effort is being made to have the evening a great success.

The clubs will put in an entirely new program with characteristic stunts. The concert will be kept entirely separate from the dance and fellows who do not dance should not let this keep them away from the concert; the concert is given for them.

There are three important social functions of Junior Week and in after years students who do not enjoy the pleasures of the social life of this Week at the Institute will regret it.

MR. KENISON ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Kenison talked on "Evolution and Revolution" at the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting Thursday at 1.30 P.M. in Trinity Church.

In this age of scepticism, he said, it becomes of vital importance to us to know whether the faith held by our fathers is tenable today. Has the theory of the evolution of man shaken our belief in the fundamental laws of religion? Will final perfection in man be eventually attained by evolution, or may we hope to reach the goal in the short span of our own lives? In other words, do we need Evolution or Revolution?

There are two classes of evolutionists. The first says that the universe was formed by the inevitable results of natural laws, the second maintains that some omnipotent being must have guided and directed the formation of our sphere out of chaos. The Bible supports the second theory; if we reject its testimony it becomes nothing but the literature of a now despised race. Scientific opinion is changing on this controversy. Many savants are now stoutly maintaining that all evolution, and particularly Darwinism, is an erroneous theory which cannot long persist.

The spiritual development must keep pace with the bodily growth, but that is not sufficient. The final change in man must come from external sourses in the form of Revolution; his spirit must be touched by Divine fire in order that he may attain his full moral development and fulfil the purpose for which he was sent into the world.

It is only with the completion of Technique that a perfect work of art has been produced. — R. W. Emerson.

As this issue of The Tech is going into the forms the Board of Editors are enjoying their annual dinner.

Volume Twenty Five.

The present volume, which will be completed with the close of this term, is the twenty-fifth since the founding of The Tech, and the second since the change to its present tri-weekly form.

The Tech feels that it has distinctly attained its majority, and has won for itself at the Institute a place worthy of its first quarter century. The life at the Institute is growing larger with each year, and The Tech is finding a broader field to cover with each succeeding volume.

So the Editors need a good dinner annually to fit them for the work in hand; and they enjoy it because it furnishes occasion for a new toast to the success of The Tech.

Price of Technique.

The price of Techniques will return this year to the former price of $2.00. Though the price of the book must be fixed by those whose privilege it is to work for it, so that as many copies may be disposed of as possible, the policy which has been pursued in the past of selling Techniques at a reduced price seems to us short-sighted.

The student desiring to secure a 1905 Technique today may do so for one dollar, which is fifty cents less than the original price. It is to the credit of the 1906 Board that the 1906 Technique is still sold for its original value. It is earnestly hoped that this will establish a custom of doing away with a reduction in the price of Technique, lest some students be tempted to wait before buying one till the price is reduced and thus diminish the sales at the time when they mean most to the Technique Board.

1908 KOMMERS.

The Sophomores held a class meeting Wednesday noon at which there was but poor attendance. Pres. McGuigan urged a large attendance at the '08 Kommers tomorrow night. The committee has worked hard to make the evening a success and has arranged the following program: Flute solo by Barnes, song by Ellis, reading by Gimson, 'cello selection by Thompson, piano selection by Thode, German dialect by Vonnegut, song by Williams, and selections by a banjo quartet and glee club.

TECH PROFESSOR GOES TO BERLIN.

Dr. A. Rambeau, formerly associate professor of Romance languages in the John Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md., has recently accepted a call to the university of Berlin, Ger. He will enter upon his new duties in April. He was called by President Crafts in 1899 to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to be the head of the modern language department, but resigned his position soon after.

FRESHMEN ELECTION.

All nominations for Freshman Vice-President must be in by 4 P.M. today. All of the collectors of the last Freshman assessment must report to Treasurer Whitaker before 4.00 P.M. Monday. The ballots will be mailed early next week. No Freshman who has not paid his assessment will receive a ballot.

Summer Work. — A Springfield firm has positions for Tech men, paying $2.00 per day and upwards according to ability. See A. C. Nichols, '08, at Cage, 1.05-1.15.

AT THE THEATRES.

Tremont Theatre.

At last the long anticipated co-star engagement of James K. Hackett and Mary Mannering, in Alfred Sutro's great drama, "The Walls of Jericho," draws near, as these two distinguished stars will begin a limited stay of two weeks on Monday next at the Tremont Theatre. On this occasion they will present "The Walls of Jericho," a play which dramatic essayists, in both the daily prints and magazines, have loudly proclaimed as the best drama of years.

Majestic Theatre.

"The Earl and The Girl" begins an engagement at the Majestic Theatre Saturday, April 7. This play is a combination of merriment and melody, with an endless parade of pretty girls. The company is headed by Eddie Foy, whose mirth-provoking qualities are well known in Boston, besides eighty-four other artists. The production in its entirety is the original one which so emphatically scored a success in New York City.

Gentlemen:

Lighter weight overcoats are now in order, and most of us thoroughly appreciate the ease and comfort of the change from the clumsy winter coat to the more graceful and easier handled light weight.

Fashion has decreed that soft grays with more length than formerly, and fashioned more to the body, are to be the thing.

There's good reason for the change; the new lengths will cover the longer sack suit, the cutaway, or the frock coat.

Scots & Company, having anticipated the demand from good dressers for something distinctive in light weight top coats, are prepared to show models and fabrics which are beyond criticism.

SPRING TRAINING AT TECH FIELD.

Spring training for the track team started Thursday afternoon and the Tech field again showed signs of life. About twenty men were out for the track practice besides some thirty undergraduates who reported for baseball practice. Only light practice was indulged in and after a few days of limbering up the squads will get down to hard work.

HARVARD MINERS ENTERTAINED.

The Mining Engineering Society will meet today, April 6, at 7.30 P.M. at the Tech Union. The Harvard Mining Club will be the guests of the society.

Prof. R. H. Richards will speak on the "Black Sands of the Pacific Coast" and the lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views.
